Belize, a small country in Central America, is home to some of the most pristine and breathtaking natural wonders in the world. From the turquoise waters of the Caribbean Sea to the lush rainforests of the interior, Belize has something to offer every traveler.

In her book, Moon Belize Travel Guide, author Lebawit Lily Girma takes readers on a journey through this beautiful country, highlighting the must-see attractions, hidden gems, and insider tips. In this article, we'll take a closer look at two of Belize's most iconic destinations: the Blue Hole and the Blue Lagoon.

The Great Blue Hole

The Great Blue Hole is a large, circular sinkhole off the coast of Belize. It is one of the most popular dive sites in the world, and it is home to a wide variety of marine life, including sharks, rays, and fish.

The Blue Hole was formed by a series of underwater cave collapses during the last ice age. The caves were flooded when the sea level rose, and the resulting sinkhole is now over 1,000 feet deep and 1,000 feet wide.

Divers from all over the world come to the Blue Hole to experience its stunning beauty and diverse marine life. There are several dive operators in Belize that offer tours to the Blue Hole.

In addition to diving, visitors to the Blue Hole can also enjoy snorkeling, swimming, and fishing. There are also several tour operators that offer boat trips to the Blue Hole, so visitors can experience the beauty of this natural wonder without having to dive.

The Blue Lagoon

The Blue Lagoon is a small, freshwater lagoon located in the interior of Belize. It is known for its crystal-clear waters and lush vegetation. The Blue Lagoon is a popular spot for swimming, snorkeling, and kayaking.

The Blue Lagoon was formed by a sinkhole in the limestone bedrock. The water in the lagoon is replenished by underground springs, and it is very clear and clean. The lagoon is also home to a variety of fish and other wildlife.

Visitors to the Blue Lagoon can enjoy swimming, snorkeling, kayaking, and fishing. There are also several hiking trails in the surrounding area. The Blue Lagoon is a great place to relax and enjoy the beauty of Belize's natural surroundings.

Planning Your Trip
